LEARNING OUTCOMES

This is a summit of like-minded professionals seeking to extend their knowledge and experience of successful capital campaign strategies and tactics. It is not a Conference, it is not a seminar. Papers will not be presented. It is a forum for bringing together professionals with an expectation to contribute to the Summit, to challenge assumptions and processes and to discuss the application and running of successful 21C capital campaigns. Facilitators will present brief tools, case studies and campaign fundamentals for discussion and debate.

Each participant in the National Capital Campaign Summit will leave having: either reinforced their capital campaign experience; learnt new campaign techniques; modifications of process and/or new campaign tools; had the chance to test their own theories and applications with industry peers; as well as listened and learnt from fellow participants including their experiences.

WHAT YOU WILL RECEIVE
